

An immense amount of work, time, coordinating ideas, engineering and testing went into developing this Product Information Manual. Please send all of this information to your employees: engineers, estimators, salesmen, project managers, draftsmen, etc.

Please understand that as the lightweight continues to evolve, there will be changes and the changes will be reflected in the Product Information Manual by adding, deducting or revising information as it unfolds. When a change is made, we will update on dropbox. It is your responsibility to retrieve the new information.

Thank you,

N. Brundage Pursley Jr.
