

What is a Technical Evaluation Report (TER)?

A TER Provides evidence to building officials that the products listed have been evaluated for code compliance and are acceptable for use in the applications listed in the TER. Without a TER, the local jurisdiction would need to request all underlying data and do their own evaluation. Most are not willing to do this and instead rely on accredited agencies like DrJ to do the evaluation.